DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "racks" in claim 15 and the "coupling means" in claim 16 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Art Unit: 3612

There is insufficient description of how to specifically make the two elements of the front cover part to be lengthwise displaceable relative to one another.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 11, 14 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 11, line 2, "it" has no clear antecedent basis.

In claim 14, "on right and left edges thereof" has no clear antecedent basis.

In claim 17, "bearing mechanism of the rear cover part" has no clear antecedent basis and it is unclear how the drive for displacing the front cover part is "derived" from the bearing mechanism of the rear cover part.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 3612

7. Claims 1-5, 7, 10-12, and 14-20, as understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Neubrand et al.

Neubrand et al. disclose the claimed invention including front cover part 14; first bearing means 30, 32, 34 including first guide rail 34, second guide rail 32, and control part 30; second bearing means including two elements 50, 52 on both sides of the vehicle comprising a four bar linkage mechanism.

Regarding claims 10 and 11, Neubrand et al. discloses pivot bearing 50 and displacement mechanism 52.

Regarding claim 12, the trunk lid of Neubrand et al. is considered to have a "rear" pivot axis relative to the vehicle front and rear ends as broadly as recited.

Regarding claims 15-17, Neubrand et al. disclose a drive motor 38 with drive cables 40 and coupling means comprising the unnumbered connector located in Figure 1 below the motor and interconnecting the bearing means

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 6, 8 and 9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 3612

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The cited references show several other convertible cover arrangements similar to that of the current invention.
